Tremblay, Don Rodengo, chief Marshal of the Spaniards, was killed, together with a Spanish Captain, 200 French and 60 Spanish The attack so amazed the enemy that our men were allowed within ten paces of the c nnon to disarm the dead, and lead away the prisoners, none ever offering to follow The rest of the day was spent in slight skirmishes and cannonades

Next day, the enemy made a great show but at last sent out some shot to skirmish, whom Captain Anthony Shirley, with 15 horse and a few foot, speedily put to their heels, pursuing them to their barricades, where his horse was shot In the skirmish, Mr Kempe, a gentleman of the cornet, was killed, and Mr Charles Blunt had his horse killed under him with a cannon shot

On 13th June, the enemy made some light skirmishes but would not abide a charge either of horse or foot The day following, being St John's day with the Spaniards, it was expected that the enemy would give battle, but nothing was done In the night the Duke prepared to remove, and withdrawing his cannon, the next day he repassed the hill on which he had first appeared, and retired to Quenelac

The Prince, having now waited with his army on the heath from Fnday the nth June to the i$th, in readiness to give battle, also withdrew his artillery and returned his troops to quarters

i6tb July A CONSPIRACY FOR PRETENDED REFORMATION

There is much disquiet in the City by reason of three fanatical preachers, Racket, Arthington and Coppinger About ten o'clock this morning, these men, having met in a house in Broken Wharf, set out, and began to proclaim to passers-by that Christ was come again from heaven Thence

Coppinger led the way by Watlmg Street and Old Change towards Cheapside, all the time crying out, ‘Repent, England, repent *

Moved by the unwonted sight of these new prophets arisen in London, the people soon crowded about them until by the time that the Cross in Cheapside was reached, the throng was so dense that they could go no further Whereupon they got up into a cart from which Coppinger and Arthmgton spoke to the people, declaring that Hacket was Christ's representative on earth by partaking of His glorified Body, by His Spirit, and by the
